MANAGEMENT

Psychiatric Medication Management

As a partner in your care, we use our informed experience in many areas to find the solution that works for you. We also seek to accommodate your specific lifestyle. After all, no two people are alike. That's why we are dedicated to building a relationship with you and understanding the unique challenges you face so we can prescribe treatment based on medically sound practice.

Together, we will uncover what's needed to get you back on track to your true self. We believe that getting back to your true self involves a holistic, multi-modal approach to treatment that can include medication and psychotherapy. We strive to ensure that you feel heard while receiving holistic care.

Meet

Dr. Jaime Wilson, Ph.D., ABN, ABPP
Postdoctoral M.S. in Clinical
Psychopharmacology

Dr. Wilson is a prescribing medical psychologist and board-certified neuropsychologist. He has worked extensively with physicians, other healthcare providers, and forensic experts, providing neuropsychological evaluations across the U.S. The field of neuropsychology is dedicated to learning about and diagnosing conditions related to the brain and nervous system.

As a Past President of the Association of Medical Professionals with Hearing Losses, Dr. Wilson also serves on the Diversity Council for the Society of Prescribing Psychology and as Chair of the Diversity Committee for the American Board of Professional Neuropsychology.

Born with a profound hearing loss, Dr. Wilson grew up wearing bilateral hearing aids and primarily communicated using spoken language, although he is also an American Sign Language user.

Meet

Dr. Brandon Henscheid, PsyD., M.S.
Postdoctoral M.S. in
Psychopharmacology

Dr. Henscheid is a prescribing medical psychologist. He also specializes in the psychological assessment of children, adolescents, and adults, including the geriatric population. He has completed over 6,000 hours of pre-doctoral and post-doctoral training, working in both inpatient and outpatient settings.

As a natural outgrowth of his practice and experience, he has developed an interest and proficiency in forensic psychology. His training also extends into many different therapies, including Dialectal Behavior Therapy, Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy, Interpersonal Psychotherapy, and Exposure and Response Prevention.

A WORD FROM DR. HENSCHIED:

"Life can be difficult and may inflict varying degrees of suffering. However, we are social beings and can rely on each other for the assistance and support we need to improve our day-to-day functioning. Taking care of our mental health is as important, beneficial, and critical to our quality of life, as well as those around us, as our physical health."
